K-W-L Activity

Take a moment to complete the first section of the “K-W” Activity and “L” Planning Tool.

- K—What do you know about WBL?
- W—What do you want to know?
- L—Identify new learning on the “L” Planning Tool.

What Is WBL?

Definition of WBL

“Umbrella” Term

- Identifies activities which collaboratively engage employers and schools in providing structured learning experiences for students.
- Focuses on experiences that will assist students to develop broad, transferable skills for postsecondary education and the workplace.
- Teaches students to apply knowledge and skills learned in the classroom to real world situations.

Understanding WBL

WBL is:

- Driven by student-identified career interests
- A meaningful work experience in an integrated community-based workplace
- A continuum of workplace opportunities
- Students engaging in real work activities

WBL is NOT:

- Placing students in school settings that do not align with their interests and preferences
- Working in a segregated or sheltered work environment
- An isolated, one-shot event, activity, or experience
- Students placed in sites without assessment or evaluations

WBL Benefits All Involved

Why Is Quality WBL Important?

Research to Support WBL for Students with Disabilities

Challenges Students With Disabilities Encounter in the Workplace

- Young adults with disabilities are three times likelier to live in poverty as adults than their peers without disabilities.
- Current special education students can expect to face much higher adult unemployment rates than their peers without disabilities.
- Male youth, African American youth, Hispanic youth, and younger youth are disproportionately more likely to be unemployed than other youth.
- 71.9% of White youth were working in a community-based setting, compared with 63.8% of Latino and 50.7% of African American youth (Hasnain & Balcazar, 2009).
- Youth who experienced extended periods of unemployment face greater risk of unemployment later in life.

Challenges in Providing Quality WBLEs

Educators struggle with providing WBLEs due to:

- Resources (e.g., transportation, staff, funds, etc.)
- Opportunities (e.g., few on-campus jobs and limited community experiences available)
- Lack of stakeholder support
- Time for students to participate
- Extensive support needs of the students

WBL Results in Improved Employment Outcomes

- Work experience has been consistently identified as the most important predictor of post-school employment success for students with disabilities, regardless of disability or intensity of special education services (Carter et al., 2012; Test et al., 2009; Wagner et al., 2014).
- Researchers have found many facets of high school work experiences to be highly correlated with competitive employment after high school including paid employment (Carter et al., 2012).
- Almost three-fourths of individuals with disabilities who maintained paid employment after school were involved in some type of employment training while in high school (Siperstein et al., 2014).

Evidence-Based Practices Relevant to Outcome Area of Employment

Predictors of Postsecondary Employment

Student-Focused Planning Practices:

- Student involvement in the IEP for students with disabilities
- Self-Directed IEP to teach student involvement in the IEP meeting for students with disabilities

Student Development Practices:

- Self-Determined Learning Model of Instruction (SDLMI) to teach goal attainment to students with disabilities and students with intellectual disabilities

The Relationship Between Self-Determination and WBL

Self-determination skills support students in WBL experiences.

When acting on the basis of these skills and attitudes, individuals have greater ability to take control of their lives and assume the role of successful adults in our society.

Self-Advocacy

Research Related to Family Involvement in WBL

- Families can encourage their youth to develop job- and employment-based skills through career training programs.
- Families play a critical role assisting youth in developing pre-employment skills by engaging youth in authentic opportunities to develop employment skills, build career awareness opportunities, and benefit from on-site structured work experiences (Kohler et al., 2016).

WBL in Federal and State Legislation

Federal Regulations (1 of 4)

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)

- All government facilities, services, and communications must be accessible and consistent with the requirements of Sec. 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973

Americans with Disabilities Act Amendment Act (ADAAA)

- ADAAA expanded the definition of disability to the maximum extent permitted by the terms of the ADA and generally does not require extensive analysis

Federal Regulations (2 of 4)

Carl D. Perkins Career and Technical Education Act

- Aims to increase the quality of technical education within the United States by providing individuals with the academic and technical skills necessary to be successful in a knowledge- and skill-based economy

Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA)

- Requires ALL students in America be taught to high academic standards that will prepare them to succeed in college and careers

Federal Regulations (3 of 4)

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

- Federal law enacted in 1974 which protects the privacy of student education records

Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA)

- IDEA is a federal law which requires schools to prepare students with disabilities for further education, employment, and independent living

Federal Regulations (4 of 4)

Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act of 2014 (WIOA)

- Purpose: To align the workforce development system with education, training, and economic development initiatives that create a collective response to labor market challenges on the national, state, and local levels.
- Includes a focus on prioritizing supports to:
  - People with barriers to employment, including individuals with disabilities.
  - Services to students with disabilities and youth.
- Amended The Rehabilitation Act of 1973
  - Increased Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) services to include Pre-Employment Transition Services (Pre-ETS) for students with disabilities eligible and potentially eligible for VR services. Pre-ETS include WBL experiences (WBLE).
- Adult Career and Continuing Education Services—Vocational Rehabilitation, ACCES-VR, is the NYS vocational rehabilitation agency.

Aligning WBL With the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA)

U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) and Department of Education (DOE) Statement of Principle

- The U.S. DOL and DOE are committed to the continued development and implementation of the individual education programs, in accordance with IDEA, which will facilitate the transition of students with disabilities from school to employment within their communities.
- This transition must take place under conditions that will not jeopardize the protections afforded by FLSA to program participants, employees, employers, and/or programs providing rehabilitation services to individuals with disabilities.

FLSA Activity

- Read the FLSA 64c08 document that was provided
- Highlight key issues you feel are important to know
- Record 3–5 key points on your "L" planning tool

Section 64c08: Students with Disabilities and Workers with Disabilities Who are Enrolled in Individual Rehabilitation Programs

- Youths with disabilities often are especially disadvantaged in the workplace because their relative inexperience further complicates their ability to find and maintain meaningful employment. In recognition of the special needs of this population, the U.S. Departments of Labor and Education in 1992 jointly issued guidance regarding the employment relationship under the FLSA and community based education programs for students with disabilities. For these youths, community based employment means placement in a work site outside of his or her school setting, for example, the student may be placed in the mailroom of a corporation headquarters. Included in this guidance is the following "Statement of Principle" which summarizes WH's enforcement posture and continued commitment to students with disabilities:
  - "The U.S. Departments of Labor and Education are committed to the continued development and implementation of individual education programs, in accordance with the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), that will facilitate the transition of students with disabilities from school to employment within their communities. This transition must take place under conditions that will not jeopardize the protections afforded by the Fair Labor Standards Act to program participants, employees,

Learning Experiences vs. Employment Relationship

Learning Experiences MUST:

1. Be for a student with a disability
2. Be participation in Vocational Exploration, Assessment, or Training (as defined by Training Plan) under general supervision of school personnel
3. Be identified in the IEP
4. Include a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA)/ Memorandum of Understanding (MOU)
5. Not be an immediate advantage to the business
  - a) Not filling vacant positions
  - b) Not displacing an employee
6. Be less than or equal to the number of hours defined for each program
7. Not guarantee employment

If any of these conditions are not met, then an employment relationship exists.

NYS Part 200.1 (fff) Regulations of the Commissioner—Transition Services

Transition Services means a coordinated set of activities for a student with a disability, designed within a results-oriented process, that is focused on improving the academic and functional achievement of the student with a disability to facilitate the student's movement from school to post-school activities including but not limited to:

- Vocational education
- Integrated employment (including supported employment)
- Continuing and adult education
- Adult services
- Independent living

NYS Part 200 Regulations of the Commissioner—Transition Assessments
